

Caring Continence Assessments

NDIS Fee Schedule – FY 2027

Planning for Continence Needs

If your bladder or bowel continence needs are related to your disability, it is important to consider these needs when preparing or reviewing your NDIS plan. This may include funding for a specialist continence assessment and advice, as well as appropriate continence products and aids to meet your needs throughout the plan period.

A continence assessment can help identify your individual requirements and provide clinical recommendations to support appropriate product selection, management strategies, and NDIS planning.

Continence Assessment, Report & Prescription

A comprehensive Continence Clinical Nurse Consultant (CNC) assessment is typically 4–6 hours, charged at $175.18 per hour.

This includes the assessment, review of relevant medical and allied health information, clinical reasoning, continence product assessment and prescription where required, and preparation of a detailed clinical report with individualised recommendations.

The assessment may include consideration of:

- Bladder and bowel function and patterns
- Continence products and equipment
- Functional capacity, mobility and toileting routines
- Skin integrity and safety
- Disability-related continence needs
- Participant goals and daily support needs
- Appropriate continence management strategies
- Recommendations relevant to NDIS planning and funding

Assessment: $175.18 per hour

Minimum: 4 hours

Maximum: 6 hours

Additional time may be required for complex assessments, extensive documentation, behavioural considerations, or liaison with other health professionals and support providers.

Follow-up Consultations

Where clinically appropriate, follow-up consultations are available at:

Weekday: $175.18 per hour

Saturday: $250.12 per hour

Follow-up time is discussed and agreed according to the participant's individual needs.
